Health Systems Global

Dear colleagues,

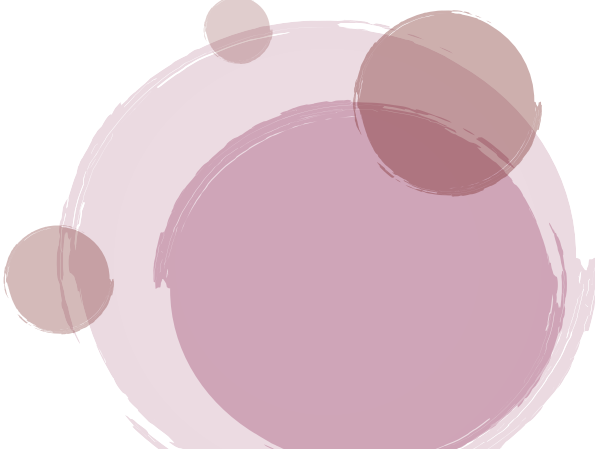

I am a member of HSG, a governance board member of EV4GH, former Middle East champion of the Teaching and Learning TWG and advisor to the FCAS TWG. I've done my PhD in international Public Health Policy looking into the policy transfer in the context of fragile and conflict affected settings. I am also a doctor of Medicine originally from Kurdistan region of Iraq but based in Edinburgh, UK. I am committed to the right to health and universal health coverage. I am concerned that in few years 60% of the world population will be living in a fragile country like Iraq.

I have been attending the Global Symposia on Health Policy and System Research since its launch in 2010 in Montreux. Since then, I have been active in HSG activities as a governance board member and advisor for its various TWGs.

I have been engaged in research and activism in health policy and systems over the last two decades. I have published books, research articles, opinion pieces. Also, I have been a reviewer in Global Health journals.

I believe my credentials makes me a suitable person to serve on HSG's board.

Sincerely,
Goran Zangana
